1. The Police / Community Advisory Council (PCAC) is charged to promote public awareness and broad community engagement on the city's police services, activities, programs, and general public safety issues. The PCAC shall help to facilitate open dialogue and transparency, aiding the Malden Police Department in their public safety mission. As part of this role, the PCAC will solicit feedback from civilian community members and review data provided by the Police Department. The PCAC shall also regularly communicate with members of the Police Department and ensure all community members have access to data surrounding law enforcement and safety in Malden. The PCAC shall make recommendations in the areas of safety, equity, accessibility, fairness, inclusion, transparency, and/or public trust of the city's policing and public safety services.
2. The duties of the PCAC shall include:

 2. Provide community-based feedback to the Police Chief or their designee on issues of public safety, police programs, activities, policies, and major initiatives, or any other area where the Police Department is requesting public feedback, or any area the PCAC members decide would provide a benefit to the community.
 3. Review reports, data, outcomes, policies, practices and other non-confidential information from the Police Department or other public safety and community sources, paying special attention to issues of diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging.
 4. Make written recommendations based on the PCAC's review of public input, Police Department data and other relevant information. Such recommendations should be made annually to the Police Commissioner and Police Chief, and may also be to the Mayor, City Council or other city officials. The PCAC may make additional recommendations as needed.

3. Youth members shall be current high school students residing in Malden, and shall be appointed for one-year terms by the Superintendent of Schools; youth members can serve a maximum of three terms.
